This book presents a powerful guide to God-approved success. The author, Professor Fomum, challenges the world's view of success which is based solely on what a person has done. Instead, the author emphasizes the importance of who we are before God and how that shapes what we do. For true success before God, the person must be right with the Lord and their motives must be pure. This book offers a unique perspective on what it means to be successful in the eyes of God, focusing on the idea that success is what meets God's approval both in this life and at the judgment seat of Christ. With its thought-provoking insights and practical guidance, The Seven Laws of Spiritual Success is a must-read for anyone seeking to grow in their faith and achieve success according to God's standards. Laoism is the first ever book on the complete teachings of Lao Zi, an ancient Chinese philosopher/sage. It is also the first English depiction to distinguish Lao Zi's teachings from Taoism, a native religion of China. Endless revelations and commentaries on his Text of Tao Te Ching have been and continuously exist in Chinese and many other languages but not yet a complete work between the text and its poetic summary. The Lao Zi's self-invented fourteen-character couplet, the couplet as old as the text, has been circulating secretly only in a few monasteries. This makes the writers throughout the history not being able to get a full picture on his work and the public inaccessible. The completion of such a project must be a combination of the spiritual inclination into the text and the heart-sealed connection with Lao Zi's spirit. The time has come.

The domain of spirituality separated from its theological overburden believes in the existence of a spiritual self presumed to be distinctly separate from the psychological self. The spiritual/eternal self, also known as the soul or spirit, sometimes supported by an overarching spirit, is asserted to be operating behind the ephemeral self. This book takes a contrarian stance; it argues that the premise of the soul concept is obtained through the magic of language maintained through the marvel of the brain's biochemistry and sustained through the mirage of the psychological juggernauts of the brain. The magic, the marvel, and the mirage together bring about subtle shifts as the linguistic brain suppresses many psychological details, habitually applies mental templates such as inversions and dichotomies, and enhances its language by coining religious and spiritual metaphors. The consequence of these changes is that the usual flickering self begins to be impressed by itself, believing it is buttressed by something transcendental and eternal within the soul or the spirit. The self, although indoctrinated during its formative years, also begins to assimilate and accept the opinion that the overwhelming weight of religious doctrines and dogmas, the overburden, signifies as the legitimate proof for the eternal soul.
